

Dr Andrew C Payne PhD
(1945 - 2015)

Andrew was born in Bristol and spent his childhood years and youth within the Thames Valley. He had very fond and proud memories of his school days at King Edward's, where he was secretary of the Classical Music Society for some time.

He studied Physiology at London University, though apparently spent most of his time rowing on the Thames. This was followed by a PhD in Immunology at Edinburgh University. Edinburgh was his adopted home for the rest of his career, where he was a Senior Lecturer in Physiology.

He retired to Devon in 2007. Andrew sadly died of Motor Neurone Disease at home on 20th February 2015, and is survived by his wife, son and daughter.

We are indebted to Andrew's widow Anne for the above resume and offer our condolences to all of his family and friends at this time. Andrew was at King Edward's from 1957-64 and was a member of Grafton House.
