King Edward's – yesterday, today, tomorrow

As one of the longest-standing co-educational schools in the country and one of only two remaining Royal Hospitals from Tudor times, King Edward's Witley has a rich history of providing an education which is holistic, inclusive and progressive.

YESTERDAY

Nicholas Ridley, Bishop of London, convinced the boy King Edward VI to grant his palace at Bridewell on the banks of the Thames to the Lord Mayor of London, so creating the parent foundation – Bridewell Royal Hospital – as a place for the training and education of poor children in 1553. In 1860, the new charity scheme for Bridewell Royal Hospital was created and the House of Occupations was renamed King Edward's School admitting boys and girls from aged 10.

The pupils from King Edward's Boys' School moved to its current site in Witley in 1867 and the School now occupies around 100 acres of stunning Surrey countryside. The School marked the 150th anniversary of the Witley school on its current site in 2017 and will celebrate its 475th year in 2028.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

We are steadfastly proud of our heritage and longstanding engagement with the City of London through Bridewell. King Edward's Witley, Barrow Hills School and Longacre School are the operational arms of Bridewell Royal Hospital, a charitable foundation from which both schools inherit a culture with diversity, generosity, opportunity and social responsibility at its heart, combining a global outlook with a sense of local belonging. More concretely, a significant endowment from Bridewell allows us to provide boarding places to pupils with a clear boarding need – our Foundationers.

King Edward's holds true to its Founders' mission to offer a foundation for life to young people from a range of backgrounds. At King Edward's this means an exciting and challenging curriculum, a broad range of sporting, artistic, social and cultural opportunities and an environment which is specifically created to inculcate the values of independent learning, responsibility for others and the enjoyment of challenge.

Pupil experience is at the heart of what we do. The School has over 480 pupils, many of whom are day pupils from primary and Prep Schools. Boarding is a core pillar of the King Edward's community, with around 100 boarders accommodated in Houses including an Upper Sixth pre-university House.

All pupils, day and boarder belong to a House and are cared for by their Housemaster/ Housemistress and their team.

Around 38% of pupils live abroad, in over 30 different countries and there is a growing cohort of local day pupils. The Sixth Form generally numbers more than 100 pupils, most of whom go on to study at Russell Group, Oxford and Cambridge, and leading European or US-based universities.

Our heritage continues to be highly valued and close links with the City of London remain through the Court of Bridewell (Board of Governors). The Lord Mayor attends Admissions Day and the School's annual Foundation Day Service at St. Bride's Church. Pupils participate in a range of events and activities associated with the City of London, perpetuating the School's links with its historic roots.

The School has a long tradition of philanthropy and addressing disadvantage and vulnerability. King Edward's offers welfare bursaries through Bridewell Royal Hospital, livery companies and other charities, for young people who are less advantaged and who have a particular need for a boarding education. Over 50 pupils are supported by Bridewell Royal Hospital and other charities with financial contributions equal to annual boarding fees to attend the School. King Edward's is proud of its ongoing work transforming the lives of disadvantaged young people through providing a safe, fulfilling and purposeful educational environment.

The Head is a member of HMC.

Further details of the School are to be found in the Independent Schools' Yearbook, or on our website www.kesw.org.

Academic life and life beyond the classroom

ACADEMIC LIFE

King Edward's offers a broad, balanced curriculum, where excellent teaching is provided in a supportive and stimulating environment, enabling pupils to equip themselves with the skills and characteristics needed to succeed in today's ever-changing and dynamically global society.

The School follows the National Curriculum but learning goes well beyond this, enabling pupils to think critically, study broadly but also in depth, and pursue interests in the creative and active sides of life, devoting attention to the wider community. Therefore, the School has two exam pathways at Sixth Form: A-Levels and BTECs to allow pupils to pursue different routes through the post-16 curriculum.

The School is developing its academic profile further and sees this as its highest priority. Whichever pathway they take, all pupils are encouraged to be independent thinkers, develop a love of learning and be open-minded and principled. A current priority is deepening pupils' independence and self-regulation, thereby increasing value-added and scholarly ambition while retaining our balanced, holistic environment.

LIFE BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

The 100-acre site at King Edward's and excellent facilities ensure that the School can provide co-curricular and enrichment opportunities that are extensive and wide-ranging.

Competitive sport has advanced markedly in recent years, with notable success in girls' hockey and girls' cricket; cricket now sits alongside football as a flagship sport. Music is a parallel strength, with extensive performance opportunities and tailored support for exceptionally talented pupils.

There is significant ongoing investment into the School's facilities. Recent projects include the opening of a purpose built house for the Upper Sixth (Year 13), refurbishment of Science Laboratories, and DT workshops.

Our pupils and staff take advantage of our transport links, including a train station 5 minutes from our School with direct access to London Waterloo, Guildford and Portsmouth.

Pastoral care and boarding

“Pupils of all ages demonstrate outstanding levels of respect for diversity and other cultures... [they] contribute enthusiastically to boarding and the community... [and] have a highly developed sense of moral understanding.” ISI 2022

King Edward’s has a uniquely diverse pupil body – culturally, socially and economically – and this forms a key part of its identity and ethos. Pupils benefit hugely from the outstanding care and support that the School provides which is inclusive and outward-looking.

Unique paired Houses share common rooms, kitchens, television and music rooms allowing girls and boys to mix naturally. This arrangement is particularly valued by parents and characterises the School’s belief in engendering equality in the community.

Housemasters/ Housemistresses lead each House, ensuring pupils are treated as individuals and encouraged to pursue their passions.

The School offers weekly boarding and flexi boarding which is particularly popular with parents from London who wish their children to benefit from the countryside and a boarding environment but retain some flexibility.

King Edward’s is now a majority-day community alongside a vibrant boarding offer. We are actively developing the experience and reach of boarding-domestically and internationally-while retaining flexibility valued by day families with the ambition of growing boarding numbers and experience.

Leadership, management and governance

The Food Technology Department

Since September 2024, Food Technology has been taught across the School from Year 7 to the Sixth Form. In the Lower School, pupils enjoy a weekly lesson in which they develop core food knowledge, cooking skills and use of food commodities. GCSE Food Preparation & Nutrition has proven to be a popular option for pupils in recent years, with two classes per cohort, and results have been good (63% achieving above target grade).

Last year we introduced the BTEC Level 3 Food Science & Nutrition into the Sixth Form with a small cohort who are relishing the opportunity to build on their GCSE experience and develop the foundations for a career in Food Tech. All our Sixth Form pupils, however, have the opportunity to develop their culinary skills as the Upper Sixth Form House is equipped with a professional kitchen, Friday evenings being centred around a pupil preparing for their peers a recipe from their own background.

The Department is based in a dedicated Food Technology building comprising a purpose-built teaching kitchen (equipped with 10 cooking and washing stations which include gas and electric cookers, food processors, blast chillers, cake mixers) and classrooms. More broadly, the department plays a key role in the wider life of the School with after-School clubs and societies including World Cuisine, Baking Club, Junior Chef Club and inter-House baking competitions. The Department works closely with the Design Technology (Resistant Materials) and Textiles Departments and younger pupils receive considerable exposure to each of these departments during their time in the School.
